Workbook

V.1.1

Showcasing the Best the Institute Has to Offer!

The awards are an opportunity for you to showcase the best you have to offer! We encourage all members to participate in the awards.

TIPS ON HOW TO USE THIS WORKBOOK

- First, review the 2017 I4PL Awards Overview and Guidelines
- Use this workbook to help you organize and draft your submission
- Once you are organized, register and pay the awards fee using this link
- Upon registration and payment, you will receive a confirmation email with a link to the Awards Portal
- Complete the official submission forms from the Awards Portal and upload them

KEY REMINDERS ABOUT THE 2017 AWARDS PROGRAM

- There are four awards categories
- In most cases, there are two recognition levels
- Some categories require two documents (a self assessed rubric and an award of excellence abstract), depending on the recognition levels for Designing Curricula and Designing Learning Experiences categories.
- Submissions can only be submitted using the Awards Portal
- Fees are charged per category – not per recognition level
- If you submit the same work for several categories, the specific rubric for each category must be completed
- You must be a recipient of a Standard of Achievement award to be considered for an Award of Excellence in the Designing Curricula and Designing Learning Experiences categories
- Before you complete this form, ensure you register and pay the submission fee

DESIGNING CURRICULA

Submission Section

2017 DESIGNING CURRICULA SUBMISSION SECTION

Use this section to draft your submission if you are submitting in the Designing Curricula category.

Designing curricula refers to the design of frameworks or overall structures for sets of interrelated learning experiences and materials to build competence for many groups of learners, over several months or years. An effective curriculum is more than a collection of courses. An effective curriculum is also more than the sum of its parts. For a better understanding of this competency, refer to the Competencies for Performance and Learning Professionals.

Examples of submissions in this award category could include, but not limited to, the following:

- Onboarding
- Leadership development

Assessment criteria for this awards category reflect the Key Outputs for the Designing Curricula competency - refer to the Competencies for Performance and Learning Professionals for additional information.

There are two recognition levels for this awards category:

Recognition Level 1: Standard of Achievement for meeting the assessment criteria

Recognition Level 2: Award of Excellence for exceeding the assessment criteria

You can elect to submit for Recognition Level 1 only or for Recognition Levels 1 and 2. The submission fee is based on the award category, not the recognition level. Each level has its own abstract and supporting documents requirements – be sure to complete all requirements if you are submitting for both recognition levels. Keep in mind that to be considered for a recognition level 2 award, your submission must score 32 or higher in the recognition level 1 assessment.

There is a Submission Qualification review, during this review, your submission is verified against the submission requirements: Registration and Payment made; Recognition Level and Award Category selected; Declaration Form, Identification Form, Abstract(s), and Rubric completed; and supporting documents submitted. If any of these submission requirements are missing, the submission is disqualified.

2017 DESIGNING CURRICULA SUBMISSION REQUIREMENTS

The following documentation are required to submit for the Designing Curricula Category. Use this page of the Workbook as a checklist. Submit all the documents with the complete submission package when you visit the Awards Portal. The Awards Portal can only be accessed after the Registration and Payment process has been completed. DESIGNING LEARNING
EXPERIENCES
Submission Section

2017 DESIGNING LEARNING EXPERIENCES SUBMISSION SECTION

Use this section to draft your submission if you are submitting in the Designing Learning Experiences category

According to the Competencies for Performance and Learning Professionals, Designing Learning Experiences refers to specific learning experiences (such as a video, an eLearning course, or a virtual or face-to-face workshop) that develop performance with a well-defined audience over a brief period of time (such as minutes, hours, or days).

Examples of submissions in this award category could include, but not limited to, the following:

- An eLearning course on maintaining a respectful workplace
- An instructor-led training session on operating a crane

Assessment criteria for this awards category reflects Key Outputs for the Designing Learning Experiences competency - refer to the Competencies for Performance and Learning Professionals for additional information.

There are two recognition levels for this awards category:

Recognition Level 1: Standard of Achievement for meeting the assessment criteria

Recognition Level 2: Award of Excellence for exceeding the assessment criteria

You can elect to submit for Recognition Level 1 only or for Recognition Levels 1 and 2. The submission fee is based on the award category, not the recognition level. Each level has its own abstract and supporting documents requirements – be sure to complete all requirements if you are submitting for both recognition levels. Keep in mind that to be considered for a recognition level 2 award, your submission must score 32 or higher in the recognition level 1 assessment.

There is a Submission Qualification review, during this review, your submission is verified against the submission requirements: Registration and Payment made; Recognition Level and Award Category selected; Declaration Form, Identification Form, Abstract(s), and Rubric completed; and supporting documents submitted. APPLIED INNOVATION Submission Section

2017 APPLIED INNOVATION SUBMISSION SECTION

Use this section as a draft if you are submitting in the Applied Innovation category

There is the need to recognize innovation (large and small) that falls outside the competency framework. These innovations include hard and soft technologies that disrupt the way we work, learn and perform. By sharing these innovations, they improve the I4PL and the work it does.

Types of submissions in this category include:

- Authoring tools for training design and development
- Applying system thinking to your Needs assessment
- Using AI/Chatbots for engaging learning when they want the training (pull technology)

There is only one level of recognition for this awards category:

Recognition Level 1: Standard of Achievement

There is a Submission Qualification review, during this review, your submission is verified against the submission requirements: Registration and Payment made; Recognition Level and Award Category selected; Declaration Form, Identification Form, Abstract(s), and Rubric completed; and supporting documents submitted. LEARNER IMPACT Submission Section

2017 Learner Impact Award Submission Section

Use this section as a draft if you are submitting in the Impact Award category

The Learner Impact award focuses on remarkable performance and learning products and experiences - for the learner. We are looking for high levels of engagement and WOW! factor.

Types of submissions in this category include:

- Rich eLearning experiences
- Real life scenarios
- Advanced simulators

There are two recognition levels for this awards category:

Recognition Level 1: Standard of Achievement

Recognition Level 2: Award of Excellence

For the Learner Impact Award category you submit for Level 1 and 2 together. The submission fee is based on the category, not the levels. The Level one review has its own rubric, and video requirements. Submissions which receive the Level 1 – Standard of Achievement will be automatically considered for the Level 2 – Award of Excellence.

The Learner Impact Award for Excellence is voted on by the I4PL membership within the Institute for Performance and Learning's Member Portal.

There is a Submission Qualification review, during this review, your submission is verified against the submission requirements: Registration and Payment made; Recognition Level and Award Category selected; Declaration Form, Identification Form, Abstract(s), and Rubric completed; and supporting documents submitted. - _____

Optional: Provide link(s) for I4PL members to experience/review training content.

- _____

Recognition Level 2: Award for Excellence

The Impact Award for excellence will be voted on by the I4PL membership. There is no additional documentation required to apply for this recognition level.

SUBMISSION SUMMARY SECTION

Use this Workbook section only once, regardless of how many categories you submit for.

The submission summary will provide a high-level business overview for the submission project.

This summary will be used by the I4PL to showcase the submission via digital and print media.

Instructions:

1. Write a submission summary (up to 1500 words, no template required).
2. Submit the completed summary with the complete submission package when you visit the submission portal

Consider the following questions when writing your submission summary:

- Why should we celebrate this submission?
- What problem or business need were you solving for?
- What aspects of your submission demonstrate performance and learning innovation, creativity, or originality?
- What methods, tools or resources did you use to develop a superior quality learning experience through this project?
- What was the impact of your submission on individuals, the organization and/or external audiences?
 - How was impact measured?
 - What is your plan to sustain and expand the impact?
- How successful was the submission in resolving the original problem or business need?
 - How was success measured?
 - What is your plan to sustain or expand this success?

SUBMIT PROMOTIONAL VIDEO

Winning submissions are required to provide a 1-2 minute video that celebrate the submission (in November). ALL submissions are invited to provide the video now to provide further clarity and strengthen their submission.

This video should focus on the learning experience and/or the development team. Timelines, stats and metrics should not be the focus of the video. Video will be used during the ceremony and on I4PL website and communication.

Note, this promotional video is not the same video required for the Impact award. Where the Impact video focuses on demonstrating the learning engagement, this video focuses on the design and development of the project.
